CINCINNATI Home to America's first professional baseball team, home to the city built on seven hills and home to some of America's most unique food flavors.

WE LOVE CINCINNATI. We love our sports. We love the Ohio River. We love our riverboat heritage and we love our history. This mid-western locale became a melting pot of nationalities from across the globe and each group brought with them their own unique flavors and recipes. But as Cincinnatians, both native and adoptive, move across the country, the things they miss more than the history and the scenery are the signature tastes that are distinctively ours.

They miss the world-famous taste of Montgomery Inn ribs; the enticing scents of Glier's Goetta; the unique flavors that can only be found at LaRosa's; a three-way from Skyline; pints of Graeter's Ice Cream; succulent meats from Longdale Farm or the craft-made sausages from our own Queen City Sausage. These are Cincinnati's favorites. Whether you're sending someone a memory, or introducing someone new to your hometown, you can't go wrong when you treat them to CincyFavorites. All of the items featured in our catalog combine the best that our city has to offer! Choose one of your favorites or combine different brands to make your delivery unique. If you don't see a specific package you want, please give us a call and we will do our best to make it happen!

ENJOY THE FINE FLAVORS OF THE QUEEN CITY!

Cincinnati is home to America's #1 ribs and barbecue restaurant. Montgomery Inn was founded in 1951 in the village of Montgomery, and has been playing to a packed house for over 60 years. This family-owned operation has two locations, serving thousands of customers every week. The ribs, brisket, chicken and barbecue have graced the plates of US presidents, locals, and visiting celebrities since the day it opened. In fact, Fox News has named Montgomery Inn one of the top 10 barbecue restaurants in America! One taste and you'll know why.

From a small kitchen in the village of Kastoria, Greece, a fascinated young Nicholas Lambrinides watched as his mother and grandmother prepared authentic Greek dishes. Their recipes had been passed down from generation to generation. These were unique, wonderful dishes that had the power to bring his whole family together.

In 1954, when Buddy LaRosa opened his first neighborhood pizzeria on Cincinnati's West Side, his Sicilian-born father told him he was crazy. "You gonna sell pizza? 'Med-i-gans never gonna buy pizza from you," he said. Who could argue with him? After all, in 1954 many Americans had never even heard of pizza. As sons will do, Buddy went ahead with his plan anyway. So began the story of LaRosa's Pizzerias. And it's a bona fide, star-spangled Great American Success Story.

Welcome to the home of the region's best-selling craft sausage! Queen City Sausages are made by second-generation craftsman Elmer Hensler. He starts with fresh onions, garlic, and spices that are truly from the earth. A craft sausage-maker uses only authentic, time-honored recipes and the finest ingredients to bring them to life. His craft sausages are stuffed by specialists who pour their time and artistry into their handiwork, one small batch at a time.

In 1946, Covington, Kentucky, a young Robert Glier, a brave entrepreneur just returned from the war, gently closed his eyes to truly savor the all-consuming glory of the moment. It is here, in his very own butcher shop, on a floor covered in sawdust, where the dream takes flight. While he could never know just exactly where the flight would take him, the stage was set, then and there, for the development, discovery, and delivery of the world's best-selling goetta.

In 1868, Louis Graeter moved to Cincinnati. He sold his ice cream in the street market. At the turn of the century, he married Regina Berger and together they began their first manufacturing business. As the Roaring 20's approached, ice cream was being mass-produced, but Louis and Regina vowed to stick with their "French Pot Freezer" process. In 1922, they opened their first of many ice cream parlors.

At Longdale Farm, our mission is to bring our customers the best steaks and hamburgers on the planet. We raise our cattle on small family farms not far from Cincinnati using all natural methods, the highest standards of humane treatment, and environmentally sustainable practices. We are dedicated to delivering beef that tastes better and is better for you, and our beef contains no additives of any kind. All of our quality cuts cook far more quickly than conventional beef due to its high moisture content.

MONTGOMERY INN RIBS

In 1994, Montgomery Inn entered the "age of the internet" and rolled out its mail order business, shipping its delicious fare from coast to coast. It all started as a challenge – could we ship our famous ribs and sauce to our fans across America at a reasonable price? We took the plunge "head first" and we ship thousands of packages every year to adoring fans from coast to coast!

We serve and send only the best. Each slab is hand-trimmed and has to pass through twelve quality checks before it reaches your table. Our sauce is all-natural, and our #1 ingredient is fresh tomatoes. We use only the best ingredients. We are very proud that our sauces, ribs and pulled meats are gluten free! We send everything you need for a great meal, including bibs and wet naps. All of our ribs are shipped via UPS packed in dry ice in custom-designed reusable coolers.

Slow-Roasted Ribs

❧ SLOW-ROASTED VS. SLOW-SMOKED ❧

Both our original, slow-roasted back ribs AND our smoked St. Louis-style spare ribs are hand-rubbed with our secret blend of herbs and spices. Both have the magical taste and tenderness you expect from Montgomery Inn.

The original, slow-roasted ribs are prepared in our proprietary ovens, cooked low and slow, until the meat is tender to the touch.

Our smoked spare ribs are also cooked low and slow, but they are sealed in our custom smoker and get just the right amount of hickory wood smoke along with just the right amount of heat. We only use hardwood hickory, exclusively sourced from a farm in Clermont County, Ohio. We NEVER use wood chips or saw dust. Just the real thing – hardwood hickory coals!

LAROSA'S

In 1954, when Buddy LaRosa opened his first neighborhood pizzeria on Cincinnati's West Side, his Sicilian-born father told him he was crazy. After all, in 1954 many Americans had never even heard of pizza. As sons will do, Buddy went ahead with his plan anyway. So began the story of LaRosa's Pizzerias.

The same entrepreneurial verve that drove Buddy continued to drive LaRosa's. In the early 80's, LaRosa's began delivery service. But, unlike other pizza competitors, LaRosa's delivers virtually everything on its menu...which now includes over 40 items.

And, since 2003, guests anywhere in LaRosa's entire service area can order online for pick up and delivery at their own pace, and with a chance to peruse and choose from the entire menu.

Dad Was Wrong! Half a century after serving its first guest, LaRosa's is the #1 pizza in Cincinnati, and has begun to expand its reputation regionally. "Dad's not around anymore," Buddy says. "But if he was, I'd tell him 'Hey Dad, look at us now!'"

GLIER'S GOETTA

GLIER'S GOETTA

What is goetta? Pronounced "get-uh," it is a German breakfast sausage that blends the textures and flavors of pork, beef, whole grain steel-cut oats, fresh onions, and spices. It is slow-cooked daily and perfectly prepared when browned and served. Producing over one million pounds of goetta each year, Glier's Goetta is the best-selling goetta in the world.

What is the secret ingredient of goetta? It's the steel-cut, or pinhead, oats in delicious Glier's Goetta. The simple, unprocessed whole grain oats are high in fiber and protein, low in calories, rich in vitamin-B, and a huge contributor to the fact that Glier's Goetta is completely free of trans fats. Not to mention, they're delicious. The nutty texture and taste pinhead oats lend to Glier's Goetta is unique to any other breakfast sausage.
